Christopher Lowe Joins Noble as Chief Financial Officer

Renewable energy leader gains top finance executive

Essex, CT – Christopher Lowe, an investment banker with more than 17 years of experience in the project finance and power generation sectors, has joined Noble Environmental Power as Chief Financial Officer, the company announced today.

Mr. Lowe was previously a Managing Director at JPMorgan Securities and, most recently, a Managing Director and Head of the Americas Resources and Energy Group at HSBC Securities.

As Chief Financial Officer, Mr. Lowe will hold responsibility for the overall financial management of the company, including the financial planning and budgeting processes. Furthermore, he will lead Noble's Project Finance Team in financing the company's windpark projects.

"Chris Lowe's broad expertise in the financial services sector creates an advantage for Noble as we further our growth as a leading wind energy developer," said Charles Hinckley, CEO of Noble. "We welcome him and are pleased he has joined us."

Mr. Lowe holds a Master's degree in Mathematics from Cambridge University in the United Kingdom, and is also a CFA Charterholder. He will be based in Noble's headquarters in Essex, CT.

Noble Environmental Power is developing windparks in Northern and Western New York, Huron County, Michigan; Rutland County, Vermont; as well as Coos County, New Hampshire, and has more than 4,000 megawatts of clean, renewable energy under development throughout the United States.
